

The DL70 Autotitrator. Created to be the instrument of a probing mind.

Whatever your mind can conceive, the METTLER DL70 can achieve.

It can do titration methods development in just about any configuration you can dream up—and perform the most complex analyses simply, automatically. It even allows you to design and store your own titration routines, to simplify repetitive analyses. Besides a full range of built-in methods, the DL70 can hold 50 more of your own creation.

It's a whole new world at the tip of your finger. The most compact multi-burette, multi-tasking system. With new features like learn titration mode, LIMS interface and Karl Fischer application.

And such unlimited potential, in the final analysis there is no final analysis.
